Learn How To Prevent Roadway Crashes

By Kyle Tayrien

Between 1992 and 2001, 13,337 workers died in roadway crashes - an average of four deaths each day. Roadway crashes led all other causes, making up 22 percent of workplace deaths, compared with 13 percent from homicides and 10 percent from falls.

In 2000, lost wages and benefits for crash victims (occupational and non-occupational) were $61 billion. Costs to employers, due to the loss or absence of an employee from work, accounted for $4.6 billion more. For employers and victims, a workplace crash can have far-reaching financial, medical and legal consequences.

Anyone who operates a motor vehicle as part of his or her job is at risk of being involved in a roadway crash.

So what can an employer do?

Unlike other workplaces, the roadway is not a closed environment. Preventing work-related roadway crashes requires strategies that combine traffic safety principles and sound safety management practices. Employers can take these steps to protect their employees and their companies:

- Assign a key member of the management team responsibility and authority to set and enforce a comprehensive driver safety policy.

Tax Amnesty Program Announced By Governor

Gov. Jim Gibbons recently announced a special "tax amnesty" program for individuals or businesses behind or non-compliant with current Nevada taxes.

"This is an opportunity for anyone to get caught up with their state taxes and face no penalties or interest," Gibbons said. "Under this special program, as long as all the rules are followed, taxes owed to the state can be paid without penalty or interest."

The program was authorized by Assembly Bill 6 of the 26th Special Session of the Nevada Legislature and signed into law by the governor.

The Department of Taxation will administer the "tax amnesty" program, which runs from July 1, 2010 to Sept. 30, 2010. The program grants a one-time waiver of penalty and interest for certain taxes due prior to July 1, 2010 – provided the outstanding tax liability is

- Enforce mandatory seat belt use.
- Do not require workers to drive irregular hours or far beyond their normal working hours.
- Do not require workers to conduct business on a cell phone while driving.
- Develop work schedules that allow employees to obey speed limits and to follow applicable hours-of-service regulations.
- Adopt a structured-vehicle maintenance program.
- Provide company vehicles that offer the highest possible levels of occupant protection.

- Teach workers strategies for recognizing and managing driver fatigue and in-vehicle distractions.
- Provide training to workers operating specialized motor vehicles or equipment.
- Emphasize to workers the need to follow safe driving practices on and off the job.
- Ensure that workers assigned to drive on the job have a valid driver's license that is appropriate for the type of vehicle to be driven.
- Check driving records of prospective employees, and

- perform periodic rechecks after hiring.
- Maintain complete and accurate records of workers' driving performance.

Tax Amnesty Program ...

paid in full during the amnesty period.

The tax types included in the amnesty program are as follows: Sales & Use Tax, Modified Business Tax, outstanding Business License fees payable to the Department due on or before Sept. 30, 2009, Cigarette Tax, Other Tobacco Products Tax, Liquor Tax, Bank Branch Excise Tax, Insurance Premium Tax, Tire Tax, Live Entertainment Tax (non-gaming), Short-term Lessor (Passenger Car), and Exhibition Facilities Fees, Property Taxes that are Centrally Assessed and Net

Proceeds of Mineral Tax.

The last "tax amnesty" program was conducted in 2008 and was limited to outstanding sales/use taxes, modified business taxes and the business license fee. This new program includes several other taxes. The 2008 program brought in about $41 million, which was distributed to the State General Fund and to applicable local governments and school districts. So, this program will not only help out taxpayers in that they will get relief from penalty and interest upon payment of past due taxes, but will also help out the State General Fund, local governments and school districts.

For an amnesty application and more information, please visit the Department of Taxation's website at: <http://tax.state.nv.us/>, or contact the Call Center at: (866) 962-3707, or visit a district office in Carson City, Reno, Las Vegas or Henderson.

Unlicensed Contractors Nabbed In Statewide Stings

The Reno Police Department recently arrested Brent D. Deems of Reno on a misdemeanor warrant for advertising and contracting without a license. Deems failed to appear in court on the criminal charges. The arrest occurred when Deems was issued an unlicensed contracting criminal citation for providing a $1,425 painting bid to a NSCB investigator. Deems had been advertising his "On the Spot" painting, carpentry, fencing repair and stone work business on a local bulletin board.

Michael M. Sutton was standing on a tall ladder, wiring a T-8 into a lighting fixture, when he recently caught the attention of a NSCB investigator.

When asked why he was doing electrical work without a license, Sutton said, "I am doing it for labor. They wanted it done, and I was the cheapest."

Most people learn from their mistakes, but not Sutton. One month earlier, he was issued a criminal citation for contracting without a license and submitting a $125 bid for electrical work. He was issued a second criminal citation for contracting without a license.

Douglas W. Sohnrey and Jerome M. Stinson, both of Reno, turned to Craigslist to advertise their unlicensed businesses. Sohnrey said he had been unemployed since January, when he provided a concrete bid for $2,275 to a NSCB investigator and was immediately issued a criminal citation for contracting without a license. Stinson, dba Graphic Design & Creations, LLC., said he was an out-of-work graphic designer when he gave a $1,900 bid to paint a house. Stinson said he was starving and needed the work, but the bid he provided for labor was nearly double what a licensed contractor would normally charge. Stinson was issued a criminal citation for contracting without a license.

Ted E. Kalata, dba Ground Up Repairs, was advertising on a Carson City bulletin board that he had 27 years of construction experience and could do everything from landscaping, to roofing, concrete work, decks and bathroom and kitchen remodeling. He recently provided a $3,175 bid for concrete work to a NSCB investigator and was issued a criminal citation for contracting without a license.

Robert G. Swan had advertised on a Reno bulletin board that he could do all types of painting and home repairs. Upon providing a $1,500 bid to a NSCB investigator, he was issued a criminal citation for contracting without a license.

Boris Slepokourov, dba Vegas Improvements, bragged that he had developed new painting techniques, painted several celebrities' homes and was currently busy working on an apartment complex at Charleston and Jones Boulevards in Las Vegas. So when he said he would paint the interior of a 2,000 square-foot house for $3,000, Slepokourov thought the homeowner would be so impressed with his credentials that he would jump at the deal. The homeowner, a NSCB criminal investigator, did and even went the extra step by going to the apartment complex to issue Slepokourov a criminal citation for contracting without a license.

Daniel Jackson had placed an advertisement on Craigslist for electrical work and was surprised when someone called him. No one ever responded to his ad before. The caller, a NSCB investigator, said he needed two exterior 110-volt electrical outlets installed. Jackson submitted a bid for $375 and was promptly issued a criminal citation for contracting and advertising without a license. Jackson also misinformed the investigator by stating that no permit was needed because the electrical work was a "small job."

"These stings are done in an effort to free our neighborhoods of unlicensed contractors, who prey on innocent consumers," said Margi Grein, Executive Officer of the Nevada State Contractors Board. "Consumers need to be careful before inviting a contractor into their home. Always check to make sure the person you hire is licensed."

"Unlicensed contractors can cost consumers thousands of dollars. They carry no insurance, are not bonded and have not met any standards of the trade they may be performing."

Help The NSCB Fight Unlicensed Contracting

Since its launch on April 20, 2009, the "Unlicensed Contractor Awareness Campaign" has sparked the interest of many contractors statewide.

This program was developed by the NSCB to help licensed contractors take a stand against unlicensed contractors.

By participating in the campaign, licensed contractors distribute and display NSCB brochures, along with a poster, in their businesses to help educate homeowners about the dangers of hiring unlicensed contractors.

So far, nearly 100 licensed contractors statewide have requested informational packets.

This packet includes samples of brochures, an Unlicensed Contractor Hotline card to report unlicensed contractors, handouts and a laminate "Unlicensed Contractor Awareness" poster.

To request your informational packet, please send your name, company's name, license number, address and phone number via e-mail to:

Updates To Clark County Master & Journeyman Card Programs

Effective Sept. 1, 2010, the test for the Clark County Journeyman and Master Electrician card will convert to the 2008 NEC.

The testing program has been completed for the Low Voltage Technician identification card. A Low Voltage Technician is qualified to do work involving commercial sound, radio, television and low-voltage control systems. The test for the Low Voltage Technician card will be available effective Sept. 1, 2010, and will be based on Chapters 7 and 8 of the 2008 NEC.

The effective date of enforcement of the Low Voltage Technician requirements will be determined at a later date and posted in advance.

For more information about this new program, please visit the Clark County Master and Journeyman Card Programs page at:

Learn the hazards of lead-based paints, regulations, dust containment, safe work practices, cleanup activities and inspection for work in the remodeling, repair or painting industries. Contractors must have this training in order to apply for EPA certification to perform work in any residence constructed prior to 1978, or pre-1978 child-occupied facilities that have not been certified as lead free by an EPA certified lead inspector. Sept. 13, Oct. 15, Nov. 19 or Dec. 20. Cost $175.

10-Hour Outreach for Construction - Learn 10 of the required training topics under OSHA 29CFR1926 standards. Upon successful completion, receive a Department of Labor certificate and wallet card. Sept. 9-10. Cost $59.

40-Hour Hazardous Waste Operations & Emergency Response – Take this course to comply with OSHA’s 29 CFR 1910.120 standard. Learn about rules and regulations, personal protective equipment, onsite and offsite characterizations, the dangers and legal ramifications of mishandling waste, drum opening and sampling protocols, etc. Find out about OSHA, EPA and DOT regulatory requirements. Upon successful completion, earn 3.5 CEUs upon request. Aug. 16, Oct. 18 or Dec. 13. Cost is $495.

OSHA Lead Action Level Training - Gain the necessary information to properly protect workers who may be exposed to lead during their daily work activities. Find out about action levels and personal protection as well. Sept. 16, Oct. 25 or Nov. 30. Cost $35.
